bonds apon which their fances were based ast by which they were sourced, and had at once, without care for the way in which those issue-were to be redeemed, bent all their efforts to get directation, confident that, under the absorb decision of the late Andiur—a decision pe-sited in, contrary to high and knowledge-they could stave off redemption indefinitely, or they could stave off redemption indefinitely, of until their expected profits would enable the to astisfy the public. Mr. Dussian's full to among these like a bomb shelt. A few of then to astisfy the public. Are of them gave up the ghost at once; like Captain Storr once, they came down before the press we fired. Their currency began to pour line the Antifor's office at the rate of nearly half a million of dollars a month, and liquidation we the chily talk. This remember, was tenere the passage of the bill. What effect the has likely will have, we will now consider:

1. Banks that have commenced operations without real capital, depending upon their ability to comply with the law, by refoculing their issues in new silver coin, one dollar at time, will of micessity be compelled to with draw their circulation and wind up their amility of these there are more than we, and the public through us, have hereitofore befieved. Many of these there are more than we, and the public through us, have hereitofore befieved. Many of these there are more than we, and the public through us, have hereitofore befieved. Many of these there are more than we, and the public through us, have hereitofore befieved. Many of these there are more than we, and the public through us, have hereitofore befieved. Many of these have no local habitation—only a name. Their notes, sont out from Wall street will their Missouri or Virginia bouds, have been signed in Springfield, by a Cashier and President picked up, for that service, and shough their Misseart or Varguis bonds, have been signed in Springfield, by a Cashier and President picked up for that service, and though cominally doing business at towns in Egypt lave no places where their issues can be presented and redeemed. We say it upon good authority when we assure the bill holders that these institutions will receive no mercy from the Auditor and Bank Commissioners new in power. These efficers have determined that the law for all such, shall be rigidly enforced and that, if discrimination, within the law, is to be made, it shall be in favor of those banks which are honestly doing business in accessibly places and with a show of capital.

2. Banks bottomed on something more than boods and immunity from the demands of troublesome customers who would persist in wanting specie, will hereafter limit their issues to an amount consistent with their shilly to redeem. Even these have until now, used their circulation as the principal source of profit, neglecting to a great extent, the legitimate of feess of banking institutions, hence it has been their policy, also, to push their issues in the uttermest. The necessity which now exists, when their notes are presented for redemption, without delay and in legal cein (not new silver except in some of five dollars and issay will conside them to the excepts of seventer some in

Contraction will only make them stronger; and if they can demonstrate their ability to pay their obligations when pay is demanded, they will rise higher and higher in the estimation of those apon whom they depend for support.

3. It is certain from the facts stated above, that the amount of Illinois entrency will be greatly reduced, and that with 19the delay. How great the reduction will be cannot now be greatly reduced, and that we will be easily. How great the reduction will be cannot now be told, because there are none who know the exact condition of the banks. Some men who think they have the gift of prophecy, my that every bank in the State will be closed; offers brokers no reward for the risk assumed interest of money lost in harrassing i

The former I do not think it very good authority with the majority of this House, and would not be marprised to hear the Speaker of this House so decide. It would be in keeping with the rest of his denishons that he has made. I will here take occasion to say, however, that whether I am right on to, one thing I do know, and that is this: You, sir, can find no power under any rule of this House or any other Legislative body to usional and the say of the Legislative body to usional car protos. You may, having the brus force, strike front the record or the journal our protosi, but you can defend it on he other ground than that of the highwayman, that might makes right.
